Consulting Days

Just need an expert?

It's often challenging to determine the exact work required to address an issue or solve a problem.

Our experts are here to help you.

For a set daily rate, our experienced consultants will assist with troubleshooting and process discovery, training, and other services related to specific products, productivity, and processes.

Tailored Approach

Custom services for specific requirements

If you have a specific requirement, and need a custom scope solution that is priced and agreed to before it's delivered, then custom services are the way to go.

Use these services for development and organization-wide rollout of processes, and managing the transition or integration from your existing system to Aconex.

Professional Services can be purchased by anyone at any time. They can be delivered online, or face-to-face. Additional charges apply to cover travel and out of pocket expenses related to providing on-site services.
